

Connecting the next generation with their own hearts through public education

“You’re Invited”

Questions You can help us with

- What role does the heart play in the learning process of students?
- Would it make your heart smile to see students talk about chasing their dreams?
- How can educators spark motivational passion in the classroom?
- What can teachers do to foster a classroom environment where students feel safe talking about their dreams?
- How do we help guide elementary students in the direction of reaching their hearts' desires as young adults?

There is a bridge between your heart's desires and God's plan to bless nations.

God is releasing Kings that share his own heart - You're called too

Public education in the US is transitioning from an assembly line process to something that connects students with their hearts... Dreams God put there.

Public education is not broken. It's filled with opportunity to help Children get in touch with their own destiny in a way that will motivate them for the rest of their lives.

Teachers are the Father's hands... molding a generation into glorious inheritance that will shape a nation.

The education Mountain is just as important as the church and represents "ministry" in a way that influences our culture in a great way.

Kings" is the term we use to describe creative men and women who harness creative ideas, wealth and influence in the marketplace... in education, business, government, finance, the arts... to "bless the Nations." Releasing Kings and Desire to Destiny are the titles of our books – but it's really a movement of God's people into their ministry and their dreams. We paint a picture of Kings who are naturally bold, creative, and decisive, who are being used to fulfill the great commission. God is going to use educators who shape the next generation to "bless the nations."

About David - David Nycz. is a community favorite in the school district who loves teaching 6th graders. Teacher of the year, married for 19 years to his wife Koi, father of four, with deep roots in the Hermiston community. David caught the vision for Releasing Kings and is connecting his class and his friends with their own heart's desires.

David has a wonderful connection between his own destiny and the gift he gives to students in the classroom. His story is amazing!

David is currently collaborating with Bridget Schultz to create the Dream Project which focuses on equipping and releasing students to touch on their dreams; an extension of Releasing Kings in the Education Mountain.
