Explanation

Read the Gap and the Gain - It's secular (occasional to frequent BS) but has a great exercise at the end.

The gap - measuring yourself against an idealized future(s) that is not reachable and staying frustrated.

Measure yourself against lofty goals, comparing yourself to other people = performance, works, stress, (funding the self-improvement industry with no results via gap thinking)

Ps 139:6 - Such knowledge is too wonderful for me, too lofty for me to attain. NIV

The Gain - keep the Strategic ideals on your mind map, but measure progress of your tactics (gains) backward from where you are now relative to where you came from on the way to your ideal future. Distinguish between strategy (purpose, future) and tactics (daily implementation), yet link them. Your Tactics should fulfill your strategy.

vs. measuring progress forward from where you are against an ideal "the gap" (every day is a failure)

"Laboring" to enter rest and operating out of His purpose and power instead of just our own.

Daily Exercise (in addition, can be done, weekly, monthly quarterly, annually)

- 1) Every day, write down three wins (gains)
- 2) Before bed, write down the 3 wins from Father you hope for tomorrow.
 - a) Don't pull them out of your ass; get them out of your book, your heart's desires, and your Father's heart. The standard is "prophetically correct" and "in Christ."
 - b) Position your heart / Holy Spirit to instruct you at night; go before you by day
 - c) Go to bed in faith and expectation for tomorrow's specific "wins"
 - d) Celebrate them in your heart when they show up
 - e) If you have a failure or setback, the "win" is what you learned, the adjustment you made. (Rom 8:28 ...fits a pattern for good)

This is basically an exercise in being thankful for where you're at and gains God has given you... from Ps 16:5-11. Thankfulness (remaining in Christ) sets you up for the next step on your path for tomorrow.

Ps 16:5-11

5 Lord, you have assigned me my portion and my cup; you have made my lot secure.

6 The boundary lines have fallen for me in pleasant places; surely I have a delightful inheritance.

7 I will praise the Lord, who counsels me; even at night my heart instructs me.

8 I have set the Lord always before me. Because he is at my right hand, I will not be shaken.

9 Therefore my heart is glad and my tongue rejoices; my body also will rest secure,

10 because you will not abandon me to the grave, nor will you let your Holy One see decay.

11 You have made known to me the path of life; you will fill me with joy in your presence, with eternal pleasures at your right hand. NIV

PS: our education system teaches us gap thinking

- perform, measure against ideals, compare ourselves to other people with other skills, gifts, callings, fail, get discouraged, and remain serfs.
- (or) pass the test, become self-sufficient, proud, competitive, and finish your course without God and without connection to your own heart.

Give your mind a job. Switch from:

- 1) Accusations – What’s wrong and how do we fix it. We’re not there yet (Gap Thinking).
- 2) Purpose/books – What’s right and how do we improve it and celebrate progress (Gain thinking).

“Every day you measure the GAIN, you’re happier than you were yesterday. You’re further than you were yesterday. You’re freer than you were yesterday. You’re more yourself than you were yesterday.

Every day you measure the GAIN, you increasingly see the GAINS in others. Rather than measuring others against unreachable ideals as you have in the past, you measure their GAINS and encourage their progress.

You train your brain what to see and give your mind a job. Our carnal minds are programmed to see danger and register fear. Gap thinking that anticipates a disaster and keeps us in worry. The idea is the vision God is showing you. Your path is “every word that proceeds out of His mouth.” The “plan” to get there is your heart plan with the bigger goals and the daily wins to reach them.

The more you measure GAINS, the more you’ll see GAINS. The more you see GAINS, the more GAINS you’ll create. The more GAINS you create, the happier and freer you’ll be. Happiness is your starting point, which you expand every time you create GAINS and measure your progress backward.”

“Measuring backward” means you measure your progress based on where you were before. By measuring yourself backward, you get the following benefits:

- You liberate yourself from the GAP. You get off the hedonistic treadmill of working harder and harder to reach an unreachable target.
- You stop comparing yourself and competing with anyone else.
- You appreciate where you truly are. You appreciate your progress. You appreciate everything in your life. You see every experience as a GAIN. You’re enabled to transform every experience into a GAIN.
- You never start from scratch again, but always with the momentum of all your GAINS behind you. You start each new day ALREADY HAPPY based on the happiness you’ve achieved to this point, and you EXPAND that happiness every day because you know happiness is created by measuring your progress backward.

Self-Improvement marketing leverages “the hedonistic treadmill of working harder and harder to “Qualify” - reach an unreachable target (one that isn’t in your heart).” You can’t build your life’s house on anything but your book (the purpose of God for your life). Learning skills to do things without knowing what to do is a dead end – the dead works treadmill of “measuring up” that sucks the life out of you and doesn’t deliver.

Buy products, not promises.

- Products – with measurable gains; demonstrated merit that work now. (Help you Gain daily)
- Promises – of an idealistic future that measures up to wealth or stature you see in others... if you work harder, buy more, attend more, do more. (puts you in Gap thinking – if you do what I do, you can be like me and qualify for greater results/money/idealism = false). You’re not trying to be like someone else. The goal is to be “you.”

The goal behind daily wins is to stay prophetically on track with what the Father is doing. Do those things that feed your spirit and give life. The works from heaven will energize you instead of draining you. They have purpose and anointing.

In my Flesh	In Christ Mighty men do one thing right, they are "in Christ"
I'm doing everything (It's not really working)	On eagle's wings (Father is doing work) Jn 14:10 Christ in me, Hope of Glory
Feel like orphan, abandoned by God Alone with challenges	Feel like son in Family Heb 2:11 Jesus is proud of me
Run out of Gas (Overwhelm)	Every day something new I watch, wait, expect, seek
I'm making Intellectual Plans, schemes on my own	Father is showing me Wisdom (His strategy and tactics)
I'm emulating others, to be like them Measuring, comparing	He's loving me, I can be myself See my story, purpose, plan
I'm sitting in church (Or not) Fed by others who seek (second hand prophetic / eating leftovers)	I'm appearing in the council (New every day, overflow)
Going from problem to problem Never ending	I'm measuring backward (gains, wins daily) Go from strength to Strength Ps 84:7 changed from Glory to Glory 2 Cor 3:18 Word to word Mt 4:4

2 Cor 3:16-18 – But whenever someone turns to the Lord, the veil is taken away. 17 For the Lord is the Spirit, and wherever the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. 18 So all of us who have had that veil removed can Christ in you, the hope of glory

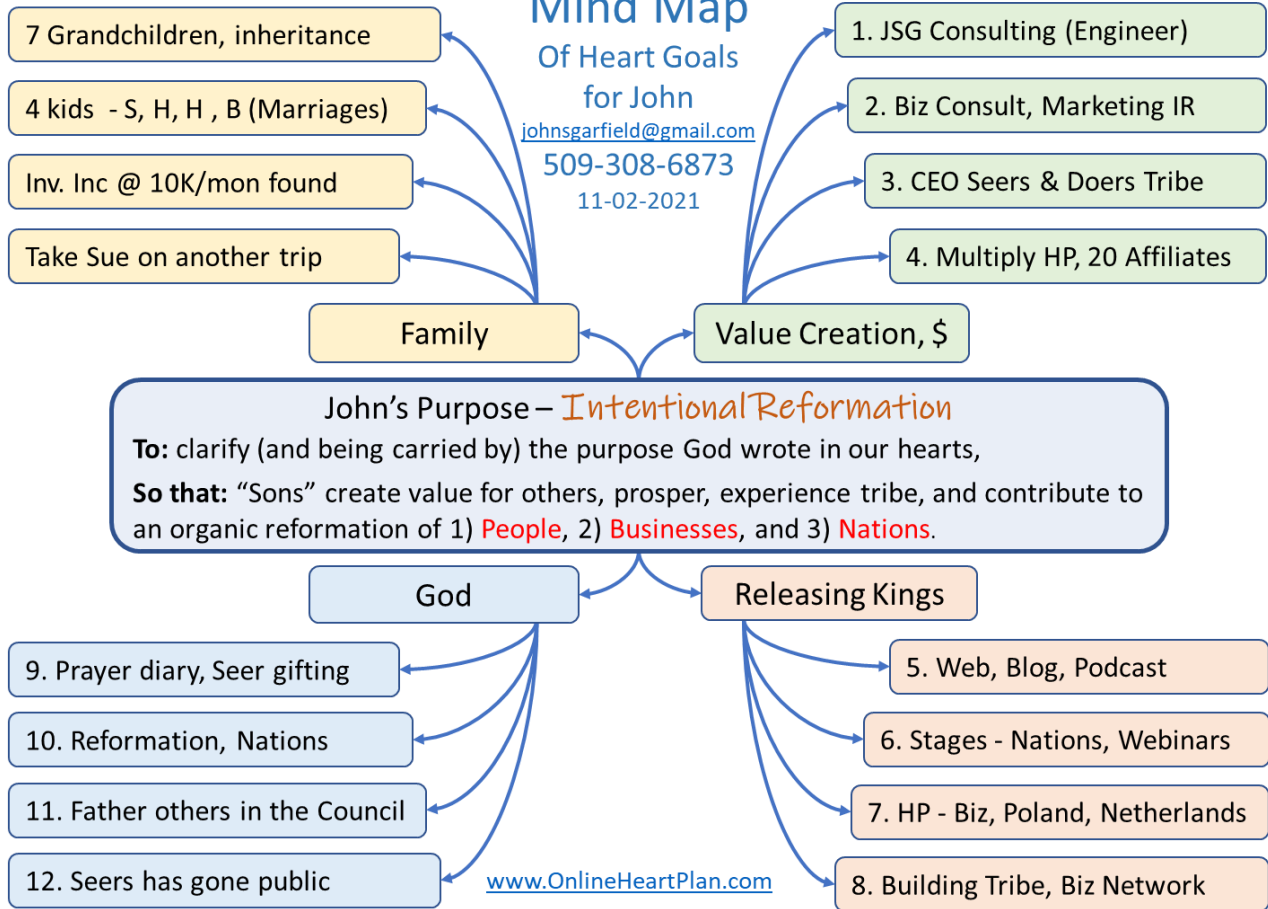

see and reflect the glory of the Lord. And the Lord—who is the Spirit—makes us more and more like him as we are changed into his glorious image. NLT

In Christ - See the daily progress of wins

- Christ in you, the hope of glory Col 1:27
- Father in me, He's doing the work Jn 14:10
- I'm in word, word in me (not living by bread alone, but every word) Mt 4:4
