1. Welcome to the USA Book

"Book" is a term from Psalm 139:15-16. Like individual people and businesses, Nations carry a calling from God. Although the U.S. is exceptional, unique, and favored among nations, she brings other nations into that same favor. The USA is not just the leader of the free world; she is the spearhead of Reformation in every nation; the light and the glory that points to the source of such amazing favor in a way that becomes obvious that every nation can be equally favored, unique, and exceptional in their calling.

*Ps 139:15-16 - My frame was not hidden from you when I was made in the secret place.
When I was woven together in the depths of the Earth, your eyes saw my unformed body.
All the days ordained for me were written in your book before one of them came to be. NIV*

Journalists labor around the world and around the clock to deliver a distorted picture of the United States. Their relentless drumbeat of negativity has convinced millions that we are a shameful and fatally flawed nation.

In a recent poll, Gallup found that only 42% of Americans are "extremely proud" to live in this country, a record low. There is a sense among many that we are no longer an exceptional nation, that the country is in decline and the American Dream is over.

It's all a lie. Our brightest days and biggest contributions to the national and world stage are ahead! God has called the USA to bless the nations and fulfill a special role in bringing His kingdom to Earth. I am proud to be an American and proud of sons like Donald Trump, Mike Lindell, and a host of others who won't bow, neither will I. At the expense of secular ridicule, America proudly proclaims that there is a Creator. We worship God, not government. Darwinism and the evolutionary world view were birthed in England and Europe, while America birthed the Creationist movement, and Intelligent Design movement. Scientific materialism leads only to one place – despair; why secularism has a death rattle. The USA has long been the leader of the free world in declaring the good news of the gospel.

We are not divided either! That America is racist is one more demonic accusation that we have already taken to the cross. We're not bowing again. No other nation has had to work on identifying the commonality of man more than the USA, from native Americans to the melting pot of immigrants.

People around the world would love to move to the U.S. They want us to win because if we win, they can too! Their nations will be equally blessed. Envy is Evangelism. Freedom is a lifestyle that fits every human heart. We are the land of the free and the Home of the Brave. Every nation will have that testimony before it's over. A Reformation of Nations is coming. The USA is called to lead the charge from tyranny to triumph. The trumpet has sounded, enemy gates are shaking. Despotism and societies know they are no longer safe, nor secret.

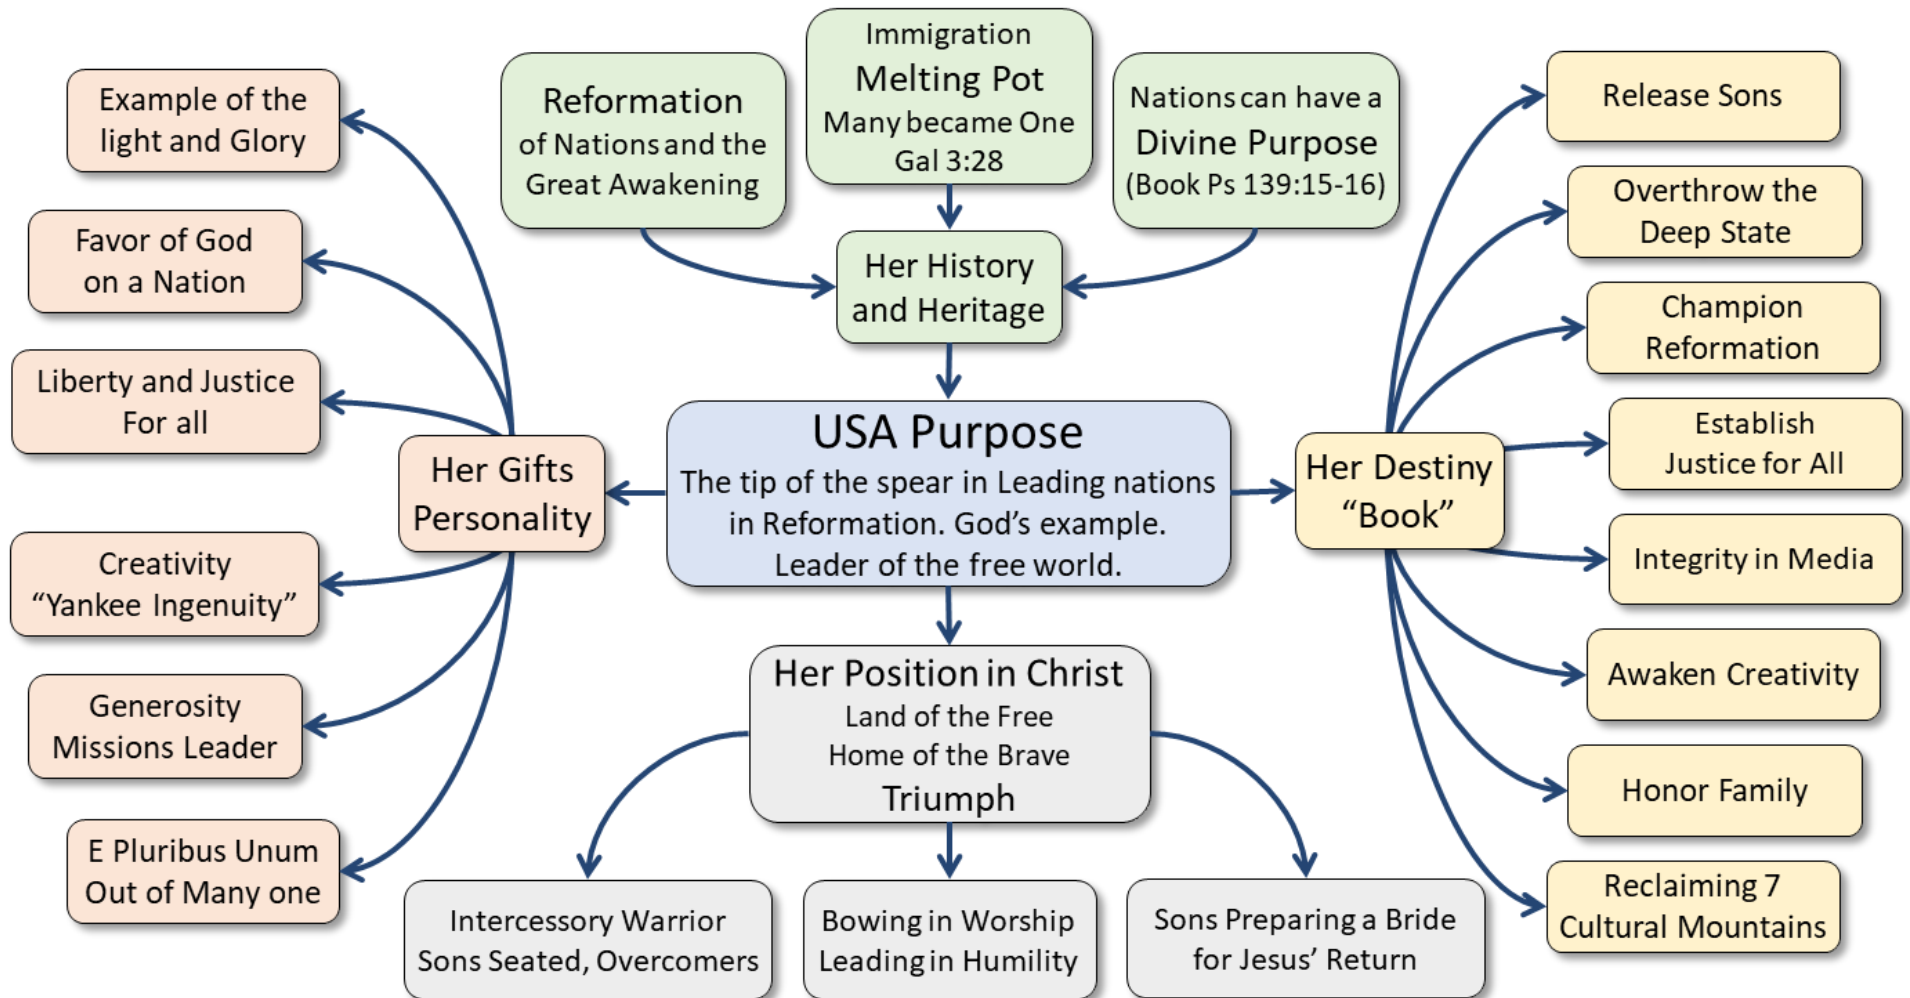

Called to be the Light and the Glory
It's our job to bless nations Gen 12:2-3

4. Gifts God Has Given the United States

a) Example of the Light and the Glory

Why – God chooses to exalt people and nations that choose Him. More than any other nation, America has an overtly Christian heritage embedded in the founding documents and exemplified in our founding Fathers. Secular liberals have sought to rewrite God out of our history – and failed. The United States was a byproduct of Luther's Reformation and the revivals of the age. Her philosophic roots stem from the enlightenment thinkers of the time and the spiritual advances of the great awakening championed by people like George Whitefield, Jonathan Edwards, and John Wesley. Indeed, the awakening originated in Europe but saw the greatest fruit in America. Religious Freedom was the inspiration for a great migration from Europe to American.

Throughout the 1500 years of the Holy Roman Empire in Europe, popes and kings asserted their Divine Right as the basis for their tyranny. The typical “awakening response” was authored by John Adams. On April 18, 1775, a British soldier ordered John Adams, John Hancock, and others to “disperse in the name of George the Sovereign King of England. Adams responded to him: “We recognize no sovereign but God, and no king but Jesus!”

Examples – There are certain biblical principles embedded in America's legal and cultural foundation that express God's Kingdom (not just our nation). Here are a few examples unique to America:

Liberty and Justice For All – Freedom allows men to pursue the desires God wrote in their hearts. That innate entrepreneurial spirit gives rise to the creation of value, wealth, and prosperity. Redemption and Lift is the missionary motive that unites revivals and reformations to change both men and nations.

The Sinful Tendency of Men – The constitution was written to anticipate the sinful tendency toward tyranny in the hearts of men. The checks and balances embedded in our constitutional republic are premised on the fallible condition of men (the biblical concept of sin).

Prayer – Although under attack in recent decades, prayer has been present to open sessions in legislatures, schools, sporting events, and social/official gathers of many kinds. Days of prayer are dedicated to address national crisis. Our presidents routinely ask God to “Bless America.”

Divine Providence –George Washington explained God’s invisible hand best in his first Inaugural Address; “No People can be bound to acknowledge and adore the invisible hand, which conducts the Affairs of men more than the People of the United States. Every step, by which they have advanced to the character of an independent nation, seems to have been distinguished by some token of providential agency.” Virtually every president in every inaugural address since has alluded to God’s hand in our national destiny. The idea that the USA has a national book of destiny is a unique cultural value.

Risk-Taking – Risk taking is encouraged, failure is acceptable. Come back and have another go. Faith is not confused with the room God makes for free will. We can know God’s purpose and still have entrepreneurial space to figure out how to implement that purpose. Americans are not condemned for failing. “Missing the mark” is part of process for hitting the target (Romans 8:28). These are biblical and entrepreneurial values that set the found for free-market capitalism and Godly prosperity.

Welcoming Immigrants – Legal Immigrants have been welcomed from every country on earth and have assimilated into the American system. Ethnic rivalries exist globally, yet, one by one, as these ethnic groups have arrived in the USA, they have assimilated into one group - Americans.

Missions – Americans own the evangelistic privilege of helping others have spiritual and natural favor. Both the church and government express this value in other nations with compassion, money, and deeds.

b) God's Favor on a Nation

Why – Deep in the American psyche are two beliefs: God has a plan for individuals and that he has a plan for America. That uniquely positions America for a prophetic ability to hear and see those plans. Those people and nations who believe there is a plan to be found quite often find it despite every other foible that hinders their progress. When a people, a business, or nation are aligned in doing what the Father does and sharing the desires on His heart, there is a certain wind in their sails that is unmistakable – God's favor. It's really that simple. America is unique among the nations not because of her exceptional people or their righteousness. Americans have more than any other nation aligned themselves with God's purposes and are not ashamed to appeal to His grace.

Americans are patriotic, but in a different sense compared to secular Russians aligning themselves with Mother Russia. Russians know a retreat could face the barrel of a gun from their own officers. Americans don't revere their nation in quite the same sense. We are always our own worst critics for the very same reason. We view our nation through the lens of God's righteousness. Americans don't give their lives for their country; they give their lives for the cause of Christ. Among the nations, Americans can be said to be warriors in the most aggressive sense. They fight for a cause higher than themselves and higher than their national interests.

Psalm 5:12 - For surely, O Lord, you bless the righteous; you surround them with your favor as with a shield. NIV

Examples – As a prophetic nation attempting to align God's purposes, we have often gotten it wrong or engaged in battles that implied a spiritual warfare ingredient that went far beyond military prowess. Vietnam and Afghanistan come to mind. However, when you consider the whole of history, the miracles of the Revolutionary War and the battle of Midway reflect the unmerited Favor of God shedding His grace on thee. His grace is the foundation of American confidence in the initiatives we undertake.

c) Liberty and Justice for All

Why – Freedom is the most glaring metric for releasing human potential. The universal principle is that men are motivated by the desires God wrote into their hearts. Institutional leaders in government, business, education or religion who try to impose a course of action on men without connecting the dots to intrinsic motivation leave their followers spiritually uninspired and practically disengaged. Inspiration always echoes something already being spoken by God in the hearts of men.

These terms have also been "mistranslated" by secularists:

Liberty is the freedom to share God's purposes and co-labor with Him in his works. It is not lasciviousness or license to engage in hedonism. Liberty is doing what we see our Father doing (John 5:19).

Justice is not the just sentence of an angry God against those who disregard the rule of law. On the contrary, it is setting captives free from the accusations of Satan that legally hold men under the sentence of spiritual death. Justice is obtained by agreeing with our adversary and taking his accusations to the cross in the courts of heaven.

Examples – Although the internet age has undoubtedly facilitated liberty and justice worldwide, it still seems unthinkable that most of the world's population is not "self-governing." Justice is both for criminals and citizens. Kingdom justice has a primary focus on setting people free to inherit their book, their destiny. It is remarkably liberating to come out from under the unseen spiritual restraints that hold people back from inheriting their identity, creativity, prosperity, and destiny.

d) Creativity "Yankee Ingenuity"

Why – The human condition, in right relationship with God, is wired for creativity. Freedom of expression is the well of creativity in any culture. Creating value is the wellspring of creating wealth. America's abundance is the natural consequence of her liberty.

"When we engage in what we are naturally suited to do, our work takes on the quality of play and it is play that stimulates creativity." – Linda Naiman Economic inequality is not morally despised in the United States; it is usually admired. What is objectionable is poverty. This confusion of poverty and inequality is due to what psychologists call the "zero-sum fallacy." This is the mistaken notion that wealth (or energy) is a pie that must be cut up and shared equally. In fact, new wealth and energy is created all the time, and the world's supply of both is continually increasing. "More for you" does not mean "less for me." Americans seem to grasp this concept and celebrate the heroism of those who create value and reap the benefits. Poverty and brown outs will no longer be "lying levers" to manipulate policy.

Examples – The concept of the "American Dream" is a deeply rooted belief in the culture that "my dream can come true" and that the government won't stand in the way of progress. The number of U.S. patents not only leads the world but typically exceeds all other nations combined. Liberty, creativity, value, and wealth are a natural progression.

American exceptionalism is real. It is not that American's are exceptional; it is simply that the human condition excels to the degree that liberty is present to pursue the desires God wrote in our hearts to solve real-world challenges. Other nations make no pretense of believing in this simple tenant of the Gospel of the Kingdom. Every other nation will be equally exceptional on the adoption of the same premise.

e) Generosity and Abundance

Why - Compared to the rest of the world, American benevolence is unmatched. China, which boasts the second largest economy globally, is one of the least generous nations on Earth when it comes to personal charitable contributions. There has never been a country as compassionate and generous as the United States in the annals of human history.

The roots of generosity are not in abundance as much as Her Christian heritage (Give, and it shall be given to you, Luke 6:38). It's not hard to tell that generosity comes before abundance. Personal giving is the stalwart of American generosity. While other nations support colonies and their interests at a federal level, Americans support philanthropic initiatives and missions in other nations out of personal compassion and a shameless desire to share the good news at the root of our own blessing.

Examples – The critics of the American capitalist system are many, but when disaster strikes, the world still turns to America. One thinks most recently of Japan and Haiti. Not only did the United States send hundreds of millions of dollars in aid, but it also sent troops, food, water, and medical supplies. We remember the moving picture of "Thank you USA" etched in the mud next to a rescue helicopter landing circle in Japan.

In surveys taken around the world, the United States is most popular in Africa, a continent we've given billions of dollars to help fight AIDS, starvation, and other diseases. But we also donate more than money (the U.S. foreign aid budget is the topic of much debate, and rightfully so). Generations of Americans have sacrificed their lives to fight and die for freedom around the world. Our compassion extends beyond money to blood, sweat, and tears.

f) E Pluribus Unum "Out of Many, One"

Why – The Latin phrase E Pluribus Unum, literally translated as "Out of many, one," was the original motto of the United States, adopted by an Act of Congress in 1782. The motto refers to the emergence of a single nation out of the union of the 13 original colonies and is emblazoned across the Great Seal of the United States.

The thirteen original states were keen to overthrow England, and the constitution was written to restrain the federal government and to maximize the liberty of its citizens. Ultimate power was left with the states in terms of checks and balances and real self-governance.

The civil war marked a turning point in the federal government's role, and it is fair to say the United States has a strong centralized government that is now competing with states' rights. However, the multitude of distributed, self-governing power centers in states, counties, and cities are unique in America. Governors, sheriffs, school boards and city councils are all positions elected by a grassroots community. They represent a laboratory of diverse approaches to complex problems. The winning solutions that work are voluntarily duplicated in other parts of the country. The losers are held up for ridicule and ushered out with their sponsors in the next election, often the next recall!

Example(s) – The most recent example of divergence between state and federal policy is on Covid restrictions. The federal government and liberal states imposed strict restrictions for masks, business closures, social distancing, and vaccination. In 2021, three governors led an overthrow of those restrictions and freed their states from an unfounded restriction of personal freedoms.

The result? Covid rates were unaffected, and the laboratory of the few became the solution for many. Liberal governors could not withstand the light of truth exposing their draconian rules and had to back down. Popular opinion shifted across the country, and even the federal government had to shift its guidance.

There are 1000's of similar examples that evolve routinely in this melting pot. Foreigners used to centralized policy and control view this diversity as chaotic. Americans view it as freedom of expression, a value that is central to the American psyche and it's political process. "You do it your way, and I'll do it mine" is OK until one of solutions works remarkably better. Then, the voters decide. The diversity of approach constitutes a sense of national identity and pride. We respect others doing things differently; until we don't (because it doesn't work)!

5. God's Assignments for the United States

The book of the United States carries some specific assignments to co-labor with things the Father is already doing to champion Reformation in every cultural mountain. Briefly, whose assignments are:

Release Sons – The trademark of “sons” is initiative premised on co-laboring with Father in a calling or Book. President Trump is a universal example of a Cyrus called by God to liberate a nation. He carries the spirit of Joshua and Caleb that says, "We are well able to take this land." In the United States and around the world, many leaders are emulating his anointing and displaying their own courageous exploits. This spirit of leadership via sonship is contagious. Sons are both Priest and King: Priests who access the council to see what Father is doing in heaven, and Kings who bring that initiative and anointing to earth like Joshua's possessing new land and dispossessing old principalities. They become Seers and Doers, Sons Bringing Heaven to Earth. Servants surrender their inheritance; sons possess it. Godly initiative is the difference (John 15:15).

Overthrow the Deep State – Nations worldwide are under the dominion of a cartel; a deep state of banking families and their minions who control economies, sow discord, provoke and fund wars, shift wealth, hate free-market capitalism, and control the media script. Before anything else can happen these underworld currents in the spirit and the natural are being exposed and brought to justice. The government mountain has encroached on education (Marxist indoctrination) and media (propaganda).

Champion Reformation in the earth – The return of the U.S. to its constitutional and spiritual mandate will have a spiritual and natural domino effect on other nations. A Reformation of Nations will be the result, and the blessings and benefits are as unpredictable as the industrial revolution was to Luther. It is exceedingly and abundantly beyond all we could ask or imagine.

Establish Justice for All – Freedom of speech will be reinstated as a cultural norm around the world. Accusations will be legally dealt with in the spirit and the courts. Redemption will result in jubilees of debt cancelation for people and nations.

Integrity in Media – The control of media messaging will be exposed as propaganda. Truth will shine its light on the works of darkness, and media personalities will stage their own rebellion from within this mountain.

Awaken Creativity – The multiplication of knowledge and the number of new inventions will be astonishing. Energy solutions will be found in a way that makes energy shortages a thing of the past. Medical solutions to longstanding diseases will be revolutionary and have a practical effect on life spans. Art and entertainment will soar to new heights of inspiration that reflect the heart of God.

Honor Family – Nations will support the family unit as a foundational ingredient to their identity. Abortion will be a thing of the past, and children will be treasured. Child sexual abuse will end, and its perpetrators exposed and convicted.

Reclaiming 7 Cultural Mountains – Governments and nations will ultimately see their role in God's Kingdom. It will not be a secret. Jesus will be present, and governments will exalt Him in their cultures.

Gal 3:26-29 - You are all sons of God through faith in Christ Jesus, 27 for all of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ. 28 There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus. 29 If you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise. NIV

6. Reformation in the 7 Mountains

Let's imagine the Romans 8:19 sons of God all creation has been waiting for who take reformation into every mountain. What would a reformation look like if it got out of the meeting box and touched a nation? What would the goals be in those mountains?

Government – Imagine political leaders who believed in limiting government to maximize person liberty, who represented and served the people, who carried the wisdom of God, who could unite opposing parties around an idea that met everyone's goals. It's not that hard! There is enough money in the world to support free markets and feed the poor. There is a way to meet the goals of both sides of every argument. There is a way to introduce the 3rd party into the debate – God.

Media – Imagine a free press being a watchman on the wall who could shine the light of God on the hidden things and expose corruption and every work of darkness to such a degree that it would be hard to sin. Imagine highlighting the works and will of God, contrasting it with the works of the enemy to shame evil and elevate the triumph of God's Kingdom in our cities.

Business – Imagine free markets that crossed every barrier between nations, classes and races to promote the ideals of work and creativity to solve problems, produce value, and multiply wealth. Imagine the concept of creating wealth being very easy and imagine someone with this wisdom and anointing teaching you how to do the same thing with your dream. Imagine businesses prioritizing their kingdom purpose as part of their corporate business plan and prospering because of it (Mt. 6:33). Watch this example.

Arts and Entertainment – Imagine books, art, music and movies that inspired people to dream, and told the story of how God wants to grant the desire of your heart and work with you to make your dream come true. What if artistic expression had a prophetic theme that resonated in the hearts of all who heard it because it was the same message that the Holy Spirit was already speaking to them? Two great examples are movies: Rodriguez and Lech Walesa.

Education – Imagine teachers who went beyond academic skills and taught their students to connect with their hearts to find the vocational application of those academic skills. What if that vocation was their Kingdom ministry that married wisdom and revelation to create value and wealth to bless the nations? Imagine parents engaged: to play their role, stand against the education mountain being used as a liberal indoctrination camps for things like “Critical Race Theory.”

Family – Imagine every family led by a husband and Father who consciously releases the dreams of his wife and children. Imagine wives who makes it their priority to encourage their husbands to dream, and who speak prophetically into it.

Church – Imagine churches with a vision to mature people beyond just salvation, to help people find their mountain and encourage them to play their role in society. What if people were taught to find their ministry and vocation in the same endeavor? Imagine church as tribes: smaller groups connected with the hearts, who have clarity on their book, are contending for their nation, and reaping the fruit of that lifestyle in their lives, businesses, and nations. “We each know and respect what is in the other’s book.

Health – Imagine preventive medicine where disease is preempted (health instead of healing). Imagine a culture with no chronic disease. Imagine medical treatment that addresses the whole person: spiritual, emotional, and physical health. Imagine extra decades of creative and productive life as the norm.

Want to know a secret? God already has some first fruits, who are operating as Priests and Kings in mountains, with exactly these goals. He's raising up many more – a generation, an army. You're being invited, too. Revivals are coming. It's our stewardship of God's presence that will convert revivals that come and go to a Reformation of Nations that fills the Earth with God's glory and builds the Kingdom every mountain. We can do this!

7. Metrics to Measure a Reformation

a) The Legatum Prosperity Index

We can't accurately predict what Reformation might look like. We can "only Imagine" how God's Kingdom on Earth will manifest. What "sons" can do is own the responsibility to shape it instead of escape from it. What are the metrics we can use to measure the achievement of Reformation?

Take a look at the Legatum Prosperity Index and find your own nation. Their goal is to measure where people are happy. They call it a prosperity index because people are most happy when they are free, have free markets, and able to prosper through their own entrepreneurial endeavors (Kingdom values). All the nations are ranked according to the categories below. Can you see the connection between this list and the 7 mountains? We've added the bullets to "imagine" the practical ramifications of Reformation around the world.

Economic Quality - the openness of an economy, macroeconomic indicators, foundations for growth, economic opportunity, and financial sector efficiency.

- A God-inspired jubilee where national debts are paid off. The level of prosperity is fueled by breakthroughs in policy and science. The price of energy becomes nearly free, and poverty and starvation are a thing of the past. There is never a shortage of money or energy.

Business Environment - entrepreneurial environment, its business infrastructure, barriers to innovation, and labor market flexibility.

- Businesses become incubators for creating value that bless people and nations. The concept of the ministry of a business to bless people (and make a profit) is a cultural norm.

Governance - three areas: effective governance, democracy, and political participation, and rule of law.

- Every nation has checks and balances that detect and eliminate corruption before it starts. National leaders are esteemed for their people contributions. Tyranny is a thing of the past around the world.

Education - access to education, quality of education, and human capital.

- Our education culture from Kindergarten to college carries the concept of connecting people with the desires God wrote in their heart – intrinsic motivation!

Health - three areas: basic physical and mental health, health infrastructure, and preventative care.

- The corruption in big pharma is replaced with breakthroughs in health. Cancer, dementia, diabetes, obesity, etc. are all things of the past. Preventive medicine lengthens life spans. Longer lives are filled with much richer spiritual and natural experiences co-laboring with Father. We need to live longer to "finish" what's in our book!

Safety & Security - national security and personal safety.

- People are not afraid to dream and express the calling God embedded in the desires of their hearts. Cultures encourage creativity as a foundational expression of identity.
- The media mountain becomes a prophetic watchdog, and integrity is their metric.

Personal Freedom - progress towards basic legal rights, individual freedoms, and social tolerance.

- Liberty and Freedom are the norm in every nation. Justice is funded as a priority.

Social Capital - the strength of personal relationships, social network support, social norms, and civic participation in a country.

- Every nation and social institution displays a culture of love that pulls people into their calling and heart's desire.
- Arts and entertainment are vibrant tools that inspire hearts to dream and societies to change. They set the bar high.

Natural Environment - three areas: the quality of the natural environment, environmental pressures, and preservation efforts.

- The environment is sustained. It is economical to preserve the Earth.

We can also see one glaring omission; "What is the Kingdom purpose for that nation?" It's not just personal happiness! When we, or a nation, intentionally cooperate with our Kingdom purpose and put that first, we get blessed in the exact areas summarized above, and we can measure the progress.

Missiologist Donald McGavran coined the catchphrase "redemption and lift" in to describe the transformative power of the gospel of the Kingdom on people's lives, especially their socioeconomic condition. More recently, sociologist Rodney Stark provided statistical evidence for redemption and lift in America's Blessings. The obvious question the Lord is inviting us to ask is, "What is that purpose?"

Ps. 2:8 – Ask of me, and I will make the nations your inheritance, the ends of the Earth your possession.

Matt. 28:18-19 – Then Jesus came to them and said, "All authority in heaven and on Earth has been given to me. 19 Therefore go and make disciples of all nations. NIV

Finding a Nation's Kingdom Purpose – Just like individuals, we go shopping in a nation's history for themes in their Kingdom purpose and personality. We're also asking the Lord to show us the book, and we're pulling the curtain back on current events and the Kingdom desires in the people, politics, and commerce. Because we are embracing a reformation of culture at a 7 Mountain level, we are interested in seeing nations blessed in the practical areas of each cultural mountain.

b) The Global Entrepreneurship Index

Another comparison of nations is the Global Entrepreneurship Index (GEI) which measures the entrepreneurial environment that makes a nation conducive for business activity. The mix of attitudes, resources, and infrastructure is known as the entrepreneurship 'ecosystem'. The GEI is an annual index that measures the health of entrepreneurship ecosystems in 137 countries. This provides a picture of how each country performs in both the domestic and international context. The U.S. has a GEI of 83.6, the highest rating of all the countries measured.

c) The Human Development Index – Energy

The human development index tracks the level of energy development necessary to support business growth in a nation.

He's not the King of servants,
He's the King of kings.

The Nations belong to Him...

Ps 2:8 – Ask of me, and I will make the nations your inheritance

Ps 72:11 – all kings will fall down before You; All nations shall serve You.

Ps 82:8-9 – Rise up, O God, judge the earth, for all the nations are your inheritance.

Ps 86:9 – All the nations you have made will come and worship before you... they will bring glory to your name.

Ps 115:16 – The highest heavens belong to the Lord, but the earth he has given to man.

Matt 28:19-20 – Therefore go and make disciples of all nations... teaching them to obey (do)

Mark 11:17 – My house will be called a house of prayer for all nations.

Acts 14:16 – In the past, he let all nations go their own way

Rev 5:9 – with your blood you purchased men for God from every tribe, language, people, and nation.

Rev 5:10 – And have made us kings and priests to our God; And we shall reign on the earth.

Rev 15:4 – For you alone are holy. All nations will come and worship before you

8. Metrics For the Root Cause of Reformation

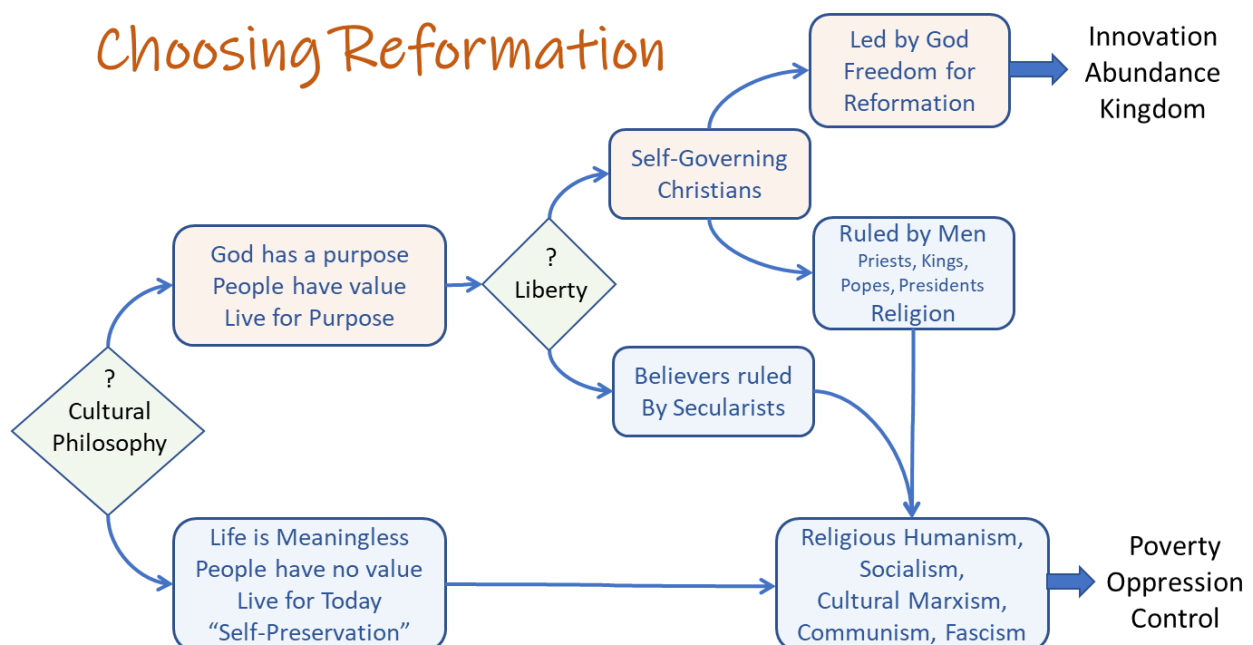

It is intellectually stimulating to consider the exciting national consequences of a reformation. Now, lets consider the internal metrics that cause one; the next one.

We are in the third reformation. Jesus' birth of Christianity was the first (2000 years ago) and Luther's Reformation was sandwiched between the age of enlightenment, a cultural awakening, and an industrial revolution (~500 years ago). Both historic reformations took mankind from virtually no concept of personal liberty to self-government individually and politically. It was a tectonic change; a quantum leap in human potential from inventions in technology to advances in the arts. The tangible difference is clearly personal creativity, personal industry, and productivity. But why? What made the difference?

Men and women are created in God's image and given a purpose (or book) from birth. There is a divine strategy that leads to Reformation. God himself, is its author and sponsor. He co-labors with His people who volunteer for His plan and purpose. We see reformation happen when people, businesses, and nations connect with their book or purpose:

- 1) Personal reformation happens when individuals tap into their design and destiny and flow with the purpose of God for their life. That "co-laboring" releases personal creativity, authority and fruit that is unmistakable.
- 2) Business reformation happens when the founder and CEO connect with their business book. Businesses should be profitable but will not prosper if profit is the highest motive. God has unique purpose for every business, just like every person. It's more that a value statement expresses in a motivational graphic mounted in the hall. Purpose is the motivation for the owners, investors, staff, suppliers and customers.
- 3) Nations also have a kingdom purpose. At present, most political leaders seem oblivious to national books, but that will soon change. When nations cooperate with their gifts and callings, a wind will fill their sails and the sense of God's providential favor will be unmistakable. Political leaders will see the futility of working apart from God and the amazing blessing available for working with Him.

At every level, we choose reformation; it's not complicated! One remarkable anomaly is that Christians can be free and yet still have a religious construct that chooses to have others rule over them.

a) Reformatinal Leadership

Leaders who are connected with their own book, their business book and their nation’s book always know one thing; other people have books. Leaders motivate by putting people in touch with the inspiration in their own book. There are three obvious premises for leadership:

- 1) Not everyone will choose to believe in God or have an awareness of their book.
- 2) Among believers, not everyone will hear God or have an awareness of their book.
- 3) However, people from #1 and #2 will both respond at a heart level to the book God wrote in their heart when a leader can help get it into words and deeds.

Thus, a reformatinal leader is very aware of being prophetically correct and connecting people, businesses, and nations with the Book already written in their hearts. Leadership of this style is inspirational in that it has great authority coupled with great respect for those they lead. When leaders do help people connect with their books, those team members exhibit great loyalty, love, and appreciation. Getting connected with your book is a jailbreak experience, the trademark of reformation.

By contrast secular leadership is self-centered, controlling, autocratic, and demotivating. The secular mindset fails to tap the God’s power and provision and is left to manage what exists from a scarcity mindset that naturally leads to poverty. Money and motivation flee from such people, it’s just a matter of time before justice catches up with their self-serving corruption. The secular leader’s god is always himself and he or she will betray any person or cause in lieu of self-promotion. Throughout History, people have hated tyrants; they still do!

Leaders, businesses, and nations all have books or purposes that provide solutions to problems and take steps toward reformation. The table below is a stark contrast between secular and reformatinal leadership that leverages the purpose and

Societal Issue	Secular Leader’s Mindset “Scarcity / Fear / Limitations”	Godly Solutions “Abundance / Boldness”
Poverty/Wealth	Taxation, Wealth Distribution (Equal Poverty)	Creativity, Innovation, Entrepreneurial Solutions
Energy	Conservation, Brown outs, Wind, Solar, Electric	Develop economic energy sources Manage stack emissions
Water	Limit Water Rights, Dams, Managed drought	Develop Irrigation
Food	Limit AG production Vegan Lifestyles, Cow farts	Expand Ag production in Poverty stricken areas (Self-sufficiency)
Global Warming	Limit new development, new technology, Impose poverty	Adjust to climate cycles Take advantage of growing seasons
Property	Limited or no property rights State restrictions, control	Encourage private property development
Personal Liberty	Leverage Crisis to Increase Control Face masks, biz closures, Travel Restrictions	Limit Government to maximize Individual Liberty, Creativity, Industry
Political Power	Centralized Control, Bureaucracy, Tyranny	Decentralized Control Maximize Self-Government

b) What Reformation Feels Like

Our hearts want to know “why” we should choose reformation. The human spirit is designed to collaborate with our Father. The feeling knowing what the Father is doing, participating in the exploits, and hearing well done is amazing. It is the purpose or epitome of the human experience and it opens a door for every person to experience fruit and make a difference in their lives and in the world.

c) How Do I Choose Reformation?

Do I have a book? Before I can seek God for my Book, I have to believe there is one. Once that confidence is in place, we can take the practical steps to articulate it:

- Get my purpose in writing
- Put my assignments in a mind map
- Create the cash flow and business plan for the business/vocational expression of my purpose

1 Peter 3:15 - Always be prepared to give an answer to everyone who asks you to give the reason for the hope that you have.

Choose to be self-governing – Instead of plugging in to someone else’s vision or fulfilling a script someone else has for you, choose your own book and go after it! We acknowledge there is a place for discipleship where we follow “Paul’s” as they follow Christ. Discipleship doesn’t last forever. A day of maturity comes for all of us when we have to choose to fulfill our own destiny.

Start in Your Heart and in Heaven – God has written something of our book in the desires of our hearts. The starting place to look for hints about your book is to ask, “What would like to do?” God is inviting us to ask for the desire of our hearts because he wrote them and shares them. That’s partly why unsaved people can make remarkable contributions to society; they naturally gravitate to the desires of their heart.

- We believers often substitute doctrine, religion, and submission for the simple process of hearing God and following the desires He wrote in our hearts. We have believed in our depravity and are theologically programmed not doubt the desires in our hearts.
- Our book is intertwined with the desires of our heart. Of course, those desires have to be screened with wisdom and discernment, but we are we able to make those distinctions.
- A reformation that leads to God’s Kingdom manifesting on earth is fun. Your dream can come true!

The second level of clarifying your book is to access heaven to see what your Father is doing and do it with Him. Jesus did what he saw His Father doing (John 5:19). What we get from heaven to bring to earth is “purpose.” Jesus didn’t ascend to the Father every morning for a detailed set of marching orders. He brought the Father’s purpose to earth and navigated the unexpected as it came. We do the same. We are not robots receiving any-minute guidance to respond to every situation. We understand purpose and use wisdom and anointing to navigate life to accomplish that purpose. We have to make some decisions; something every business man or woman already understands.

d) Intentional Reformation: What's in Your Book?

The starting point for an individual, a business, or even a nation to collaborate and co-labor with Father is a belief that we really do have a book plus an awareness of what is in it; A specific assignment with my name on it! Take the quiz and connect the dots to your future – it's exciting.

There is much more in Intentional Reformation, A Roadmap to Change Yourself and the World. The 5 areas in the quiz below are also the five chapters in Intentional Reformation. We also offer online courses to help you create your own mindmap and 'heartplan' to find out what's in your book (www.OnlineHeartPlan.com).

One of the things we've learned about helping people with their books is that "it's not all about me!"

- 1) Discovering the assignment already written in the desires of our hearts by our Father is very personal, unique, and exciting. It connects us with our hearts and helps us become authentic.
- 2) We also carry something about Kingdom purpose in our vocation or business that creates value for other people and generates wealth.
- 3) And thirdly, we all carry something of God's DNA for our Nation. Nations also have books and carry unique purpose we can cooperate with.

When we understand all three of those aspects in our book, our lives make a lot more sense. And they are a lot more exciting. You have a role in a Reformation of Nations. You're being invited to co-labor with Father.

5 Limiting Beliefs that Can Hold Us Back (www.OnlineHeartPlan.com)
Limiting beliefs	Jailbreak Truths (Chapters in Intentional Reformation)
Obscurity – I’m hiding Talking about the desires of my heart feels too intrusive, painful. I’ve failed before; felt rejection.	I’m Transparent (#1) God wrote the desires of my heart. I have a book, a destiny, an area of favor. “I’m a son, My dream can come true!”
I’m not Spiritual. “Gifted” people hear from God and have seer gifts, but I don’t have those gifts. It’s not me.	I can be a Seer (#2) Anyone who wants to, can “see” what Father is doing – it is a prophetic skill we can “learn!”
Independent Orphan I’m too busy; my business is going great. I already have my purpose.	I Am a Son who Co-labors (#3) I have a book. God wants to work with me, Anoint me, help me, multiply me. Business without Him (and a team) is foolish!
I am Spiritual. (Pseudo Spirituality) Going into Ministry and living on offerings is more spiritual than business.	My Life is a Business (#4) God Calls people into all 7 Mountains. It’s where we’re fulfilled; where our cashflow is. “Creating value” others want to buy is spiritual!
I’m Little (an ant) I stick to my little world, stay in my lane, and don’t worry about things too high for me. “False Humility”	I can Change the world (#5) I have a role in Reformation of Nations. The business expression of my book is strategic in God’s Kingdom. We’re blessing Nations!

9. Excerpt From 2020 State of the Union

American is the land of heroes. This is the place where greatness is born, where destinies are forged, and where legends come to life. This is the home of Thomas Edison and Teddy Roosevelt, of many great generals including Washington, Pershing, Patton, and MacArthur. This is the home of Abraham Lincoln, Frederick Douglass, Amelia Earhart, Harriet Tubman, the Wright Brothers, Neil Armstrong, and so many more. This is the country where children learn names like Wyatt Earp, Davy Crockett, and Annie Oakley. This is the place where the pilgrims landed at Plymouth and where Texas patriots made their last stand at the Alamo — (applause) — the beautiful, beautiful Alamo.

The American nation was carved out of the vast frontier by the toughest, strongest, fiercest, and most determined men and women ever to walk on the face of the Earth. Our ancestors braved the unknown; tamed the wilderness; settled the Wild West; lifted millions from poverty, disease, and hunger; vanquished tyranny and fascism; ushered the world to new heights of science and medicine; laid down the railroads, dug out the canals, raised up the skyscrapers. And, ladies and gentlemen, our ancestors built the most exceptional republic ever to exist in all of human history, and we are making it greater than ever before.

This is our glorious and magnificent inheritance. We are Americans. We are pioneers. We are the pathfinders. We settled the New World, we built the modern world, and we changed history forever by embracing the eternal truth that everyone is made equal by the hand of Almighty God.

America is the place where anything can happen. America is the place where anyone can rise. And here, on this land, on this soil, on this continent, the most incredible dreams come true.

This nation is our canvas, and this country is our masterpiece. We look at tomorrow and see unlimited frontiers just waiting to be explored. Our brightest discoveries are not yet known. Our most thrilling stories are not yet told. Our grandest journeys are not yet made. The American Age, the American Epic, the American adventure has only just begun.

Our spirit is still young, the sun is still rising, God's grace is still shining, and, my fellow Americans, the best is yet to come.

Thank you. God bless you. And God bless America

Donald J Trump

10. Q and A

Question - Do you see anywhere a call for the USA to be a leader in restoring the 7 Mountains?

A - In my view, that's how Reformation happens. I don't see any space between reformation and progress in the 7 Mountains. The US should be influential in every mountain, a template. I could see the nations being like our states in that some have progress in a mountain that is celebrated and copied by others.

Question – Did George Washing understand God’s Council?

A – it looks suspicious that he did! George Washington in his first Inaugural Address said:

“...It would be peculiarly improper to omit in this first official Act, my fervent supplications to that Almighty Being who rules over the universe, who presides in the Councils of nations, and whose providential aids can supply every human defect, that his benediction may consecrate to liberties and happiness of the people of the United States...

No People can be bound to acknowledge and adore the invisible hand, which conducts the Affairs of men more than the People of the United States. Every step, by which they have advanced to the character of an independent nation, seems to have been distinguished by some token of providential agency...”

Notice George Washington quotes Psalm 82:1, "God presides in the council of nations." This is probably the most controversial verse in the bible; Elohim in the midst of elohim's!. It's the verse that provoked Michael Heiser to write The Unseen Realm, Recovering the Supernatural Worldview of the Bible.

Ps 82:1 - God has taken his place in the divine council; in the midst of the gods he holds judgment: ESV

Question – Why did you write this?

A – The paradigm of a nation having a call is a predecessor to discerning what it is. We want to get the USA book in writing to discern, refine, and share it. Intentional Reformation has similar books for the Netherlands and Poland done several years ago. “Books” provide clarity for intercessory sons to inherit their destiny. It sparks faith because these books are based on a prophetic reality that came from the heart of God. This book is also a Christmas tree still being decorated with new chapters as God unveils them.

Question – Who are you trying to reach?

A - The audience are those who have become disheartened and weary; those who think that they are alone in the battle. Our purpose is to reveal the Book showing us that God has always been working and will continue to expand his kingdom.

The other audience is to encourage those want to be part of something bigger and nobler than themselves (practically everybody!). Encourage them that they have a part to play and that their lives matter.

Lastly, the audience are those who need a pattern to teach to their children and all they influence, their disciples, employees, and friends.

Question – What about other nations? Do nations have books? Every nation, or just the USA?

A – The point of being called to spearhead a reformation is all about helping other nations inherit their book. Books for nations is simply the idea that national leaders and their nations can be used by God (or not), a theme throughout the Bible. Like individuals, nations can choose to be a sheep or a goat. Personal and church revival concepts that don't touch nations, cultures, and economies miss the whole point of Luther's reformation and its connection to the renaissance, the great awakening, and the industrial revolution. This time we want to “intentionally” cooperate with the magnitude of what Father is doing in every mountain. It's wonderful! You can feel the birth pangs of the current awakening.
