Message – a vision board and positivity for your God-given Purpose is wonderful,

- Just not complete without acting on it. The LOA isn't magic, or entirely true!
- Faith without works is dead. It's not just how you think, but what you do!
- Even the demons read the bible, "believe," and tremble James 2:17-20, Mt 7:21-23

Why “The Law of Attraction” Is Problematic and Dangerous | Psychology Today

A major concern with the Law of Attraction is its inclination to place blame on and beget fault-finding in individuals who are not able to manifest their desires. Someone who concludes that their negative experiences are the result of their own negative thoughts and attitudes may feel guilty or ashamed for not being able to change their circumstances. Resulting feelings of inadequacy and low self-esteem can ultimately discourage people from taking action to improve their lives.

Further, the Law of Attraction can be used to justify inaction. People who believe that they can bring about what they want by thinking positively may be less likely to take concrete steps to achieve their goals—a sure barrier to reaching any goals.

Vision or dream boards have achieved notoriety in the past few years with the release of the book, The Secret. An endorsement from Oprah didn't hurt. Vision boards are based on the Law of Attraction—the idea that your mode of thinking directly affects what the universe gives you. If you put positive mental energy into the universe, you'll be the recipient of positive outcomes.

The Law of Attraction is not new. Before The Secret, there was Creative Visualization, which described the same phenomenon. As classically taught, the Law of Attraction is universal and as such, always works if you do it correctly. Thus, the reason for any unrealized goals is that you did not provide enough positive thoughts and energy to the process or you let some negative thoughts slip in. In short, you're completely to blame for your lack of success.

Creating your own vision board is considered the key to success. It is not enough to simply have a positive mental attitude. The secret to achieving your goals is to dream about positive, focused, and specific goals.

Vision Boards (Dream Boards) are physical representations of your goals or desires. Made popular by the book and movie, The Secret; they are a collection of motivational sayings, photographs, and cut-outs from magazines. The principle behind most Vision Boards is a law of attraction, which states that “like attract like”. As it claims in The Secret, positivity always attracts positivity and negativity always attracts negativity.

So, what does it really mean that like always attracts like? As Vision Board proponents have emphasized, it means that if you really want your goals to come true, you should not have any doubt about achieving them. To have doubts is negative. Therefore, visualize your goals as if they have already happened and live in a way that shows you've already achieved your goal.
